Just last week, ATMIA launched the ATM Industry Career Center – a first-of-its-kind resource for job-seekers and employers with interests in the ATM and self-service banking market. More than 170 unique visitors generated over 1,000 page-views during its inaugural week alone. Job-seekers – Looking for a job or considering a change? Create your free profile today! Need to keep your search confidential? Make your skills searchable, but not your personal information. Or, make it completely private and push it out only when the right opportunity arises.

Employers – Looking for specific ATM industry skills? This is the only career center dedicated to the ATM industry. Have a sensitive position that you don't want to post on your own website? Keep company information confidential while searching for just the right candidate.

ATMIA member rates start at only $200 for a 30-day job listing – bulk pricing and extended listings are also available. Additional branding opportunities are available for banner ads on the site or becoming a “featured employer”.

For more information about the ATM Industry Career Center or ATMIA membership contact David Tente or Sharon Lane. (Read More)
